TASK 4: Fill in the following words:

Well first one goes an in-processing station called 'reception,' where life is full of 1 and highlighted by shots and uniform issue . Once you get to basic, the work starts daily at 0530. Up for PT (2) which switches between running and total muscle failure days. From there it's a quick change to combats (3) to begin the day. Breakfast is short and quick and then it's off to the goals of the day. This can include work on the	- range,4, classroom work, NBC (Nuclear, Biological and Chemical) training, or a variety of other things depending on the stage of training. Lunch is in the field generally since you are far from the chow hall. More training, marching, smoking (or what's known as corrective training) until dinner. After dinner the day doesn't end; there is more low key training, sometimes another round of PT or my favourite: when someone made a mistake that day, we all go out for a Soldiers all receive at least an hour a day in the evening for showering and cleaning of 6......

but don't think the day is done. Generally every other night you can expect to sit fireguard (like 9......)

7..... boots and the quick note home are done during this time. At 2130 hours it's 8....., in the middle of the night. Oh and don't expect you won't have a mid-night smoking sometime during the weeks!

Unless you are a serious athlete, training will be harder than anything you've ever physically done. Even athletes admit BCT is a unique experience. You will eat more than you ever have, have 10...... in places you didn't think possible and be sore beyond your wildest imagination. (And if you are like most of us, you'll love it.)

A graduate of BCT may say he or she is a soldier, they earned the right by sticking it out, however it is on the 11...... to get you ready for your true education. The goal therefore is to build skills (however basic) in teamwork, equipment, physical ability, as well as learn loyalty, sacrifice, courage, and determination.

What can be sent to the soldiers? Not sent?
